WE NOMINATE

Kenneth Orion Rolland, one of this country's skilled practitioners in the art (or science) of communicating with others and a self-described "card-carrying humanist," who has celebrated his first decade as a Princetonian with the establishment of Scribe International, an unusual, highly individualized enterprise dedicated to the effective interchange of ideas. Whether an American wants to reach Latin America with a new product, or a European manufacturer hopes to "sell" Pappans in New Guinea, or a major industry wants to strengthen, or shape, its "public image," Rolland's Scribe International is available.

This 49-year old Minnesotan, whose father was once a Homesteader in Minnesota's Marshall County, has been singularly successful in molding a kind of "writers' protective society" enabling creative individuals to ply "the trade of ideas" in much the same way skilled craftsmen enjoy the privileges of specialization. On the basis of studies carried forward by Rolland Associates and Princeton Productions, the two merged companies now forming the nucleus of Scribe International, blue-chip corporations have overhauled and even discarded cherished procedures and systems, and both industrial and underdeveloped nations have reaped steady dividends.

In approaching an assignment, Rolland and his five-full-time staff members, supplemented by a dozen top-notch specialists "on spot call," leave little to chance. For instance, in dramatizing the economic potential of Nicaragua under the sponsorship of the Alliance for Progress, "Scribers" "invaded" the Central American republic, studied its people and customs and economic conditions in painstaking fashion. In the process they amassed so much first-hand data that it is likely that Scribe International, headquartered on the top floor of 134 Nassau Street, has more current information on Nicaragua than is obtainable through any other public or private source.

An able writer of both fiction and non-fiction, who is represented in a "Best Stories" collection, and a former newspaperman, Rolland is better known as a traider of writers for business, industry and government agencies. From his typewriter has come an unending stream of tightly edited articles, booklets and reports, including the Bell Telephone System's acclaimed booklet, "Writing To Say What You Mean," which in the recent past enjoyed a circulation of some 500,000 copies.

After graduating from the University of Illinois with the Class of 1939, Rolland "cut his eye-teeth" as an on-the-spot reporter—first, "police beats" in the Middle West and then coverage of Cape Cod for the New Bedford (Mass.) "Standard-Times." He volunteered for World War II duty as a combat photographer and, consequently, wound up in the Pacific "doing everything except photography." A commuter to Princeton from Cranbury, where he was formerly a member of the Planning Board, Rolland following V-J Day returned to writing and struck out on his own with the conviction that "professionals can create tools and programs offering new approaches to ideas."

For his pioneering efforts in providing world-wide information and presentation services for business, industrial and institutional clients; for emphasizing that Princeton provides the right environment for "creative operations"; for implementing his conception of "translators of ideas" — from language to language, country to country, and culture to culture; he is our nominee as

FIGURES TO WHISTLE AT
The Upward Curve Is Pretty. Broadly speaking, there are two kinds of figures which will produce appreciative whistles from the American male. One is curvaceous and strictly feminine; the other, while still curvaceous, appeals to his financial instincts, rather than to those which are treatable on the man's scintograph when a bill of feminine flair sets off a sharp tingle.

In July, 1965, the Princeton business man could find figure-watching (those reflecting the state of the town's economy) almost as pleasurable—and a great deal more profitable—than girl-watching. While they might be a bit more impersonal, the financial figures had a full share of warmth, bonhomie and promise for the future.

TOWN TOPICS' quarterly Business Index (page 2) uses virtually a complete quota of plus signs in reflecting the trend of the Princeton economy in the past year. On a five-year basis the comparison is almost startling.

In the past 12 months, every indicator of business in Princeton is up save building activity—and that factor swings largely on a basis of construction undertaken by the numerous educational institutions in the community. These projects are not constant and the finished results do not show up on the tax map, so that other than as a source of employment, they do not play a large part in the overall picture. In contrast, new housing starts in the Township are 30% higher than they were a year ago.

More Money in Circulation. The town's four financial institutions (two banks, two savings and loans associations) reflect the satisfactory picture by reporting sizeable increases in savings. In the volume of checking accounts and loans currently outstanding. Both total savings (now worth in excess of $94 million) and checking accounts (currently keeping more than $54 million in flow) are up a healthy 10% over the summer of 1964. Loans are up 13%, and well-managed borrowing has long been a boon to both user and

The Five-Year Story: Surprising Growth

An amazing picture of the Princeton community's economic growth is painted by the five-year statistics compiled for TOWN TOPICS' Business Index. While population growth has ranged from approximately 10% in the combined Princeton municipalities to somewhat higher increases, percentage-wise, in nearby areas such as Lawrence, Montgomery and West Windsor Townships, the major factors in the Business Index reflect growth of far greater proportions.

In round figures, this is the story for the comparative second quarters five years ago and today:

	June 30, 1960	June 30, 1965	% Change
Savings Accounts	$37,000,000	$59,000,000	+66%
Checking Accounts	$32,000,000	$54,000,000	+63%
Postal Receipts	$267,000	$440,000	+68%
Parking Meter Receipts	$18,000	$24,000	+33%
Telephones in Service	9,400	13,000	+38%
New Car Sales	493	794	+61%

lender in the national economy. There are no signs of over-extension in this field.

While no figures for a community this size are available in state gross sales in the business district, a reliable index is the extent to which parking meters are in use. Here, too, the consumer is more active and more numerous than he was 12 months ago; parking meter receipts are higher by 12% than they were for the quarter ending June 30, 1964.

In one of the most important aspects of the national economy—new car sales—Princeton was contributing its share. In another recurring indicator of automotive year and the consequent steady use of steel, "Twenty-two percent higher" is the story report for the number of cars bought during the quarter just ended, in comparison to the same three months last year.

Other signs were also plus property transfers, an indication of well being in the highly-populated real estate field, were up by 53% in the Township and by a whopping 142% in the Borough. And while the value of construction did drop, the number of building permits is markedly higher: 22% in the Borough and a welcome 15% in the Township.

The Five-Year Boom. The somewhat astounding revelation of the Princeton area's growth since 1960, as dramatically reflected in the TOWN TOPICS' Business Index for that summer and the present, is that whereas the population is up possibly as much as 20%, many of the prime growth factors are higher by 40 to almost 80%.

Again, the financial figures tell the prettiest story. In July, 1960, the Princeton community could withdraw some $53 million from its checking account, without fear of an overdraft. Today, the flow of ready money has risen to $54 million, an increase of 83% in contrast to the estimated population increase of about 10% for Princeton and somewhat more than that for the smaller communities which comprise its business center.

The Princetonian of 1965 is also thrifter than he was five years ago—helped, of course, by the newcomers to town. When the current decade began, saving accounts were worth $37 million; today, the figure is $59 million, an amazing gain of 60% in a short five years. Steadily increasing interest rates paid by the banks and savings and loan associations have been a factor, but the primary reason is a balance of economy in a town which does not spend as much as it makes.

There are also more two-car families, as well as the buying power to turn the old car in before it has reached its advanced age. New car sales for the quarter ending last June were 61% higher than they were five years ago.

While the population increase accounts to some extent for a 38% rise in telephones in use, and the trend toward additional extensions in the home is also marked, greater business and institutional use of telephones is largely responsible for the 38% increase in this segment of the Index. TOWN TOPICS' own case is an example: five years ago 134 telephones had Ever wonder why some pills come in clear, transparent bottles, while others hide behind brown or dark-green glass? It's no accident, but by design. Why...? Simple day-light can reduce the potency of some medications. Consider how sunshine fades a rayon pair, for instance. Thus, where needed, we use dark bottles, not to hide anything, but to preserve the medical effectiveness of the drug your physician prescribed for you. This is but one of many precautionary measures that are taken to provide you with the best in pharmaceutical service.

line lines and six telephones:
today, there are five incoming lines and 11 phones in steady use.

Picture Generally Bright.
Comments made this week to TOWN TOPICS by a variety of Princeton merchants reflect the steady upward trend of the busy summer season. A leading merchant reports that "it's hard now to tell the difference between winter and summer. It seems that while parents may send their children away to camp, or the older ones are out of town with summer jobs, the adults are staying home more than they used to."

A gift shop echoes this feeling: "It's a true outdoor season for us. People are spending well to assure enjoyment of outdoor life—everything from more expensive place mats to grills and barbecues are scarce."

A number of stores mentioned that the two-week influx in June, 1964, of the Wally Ryan Camperpers had meant much to them in cash register totals, and that, of course, was a non-recurring bonanza as the current summer began. However, in most cases, the steady upward trend over the first half of this year more than offset the absence of the Ryan Camperpers. A Nassau Street dress shop, whose proprietor noted that "the Camperpers were right in our price and style category," can nonetheless report a 7.5% over all increase in sales this year.

On other fronts: a lumber and building supply firm says, "We're ahead of last year, and last year was a good one." A soft spot does show up in the comments of some furniture houses, but the excise tax cut was reflected in increased buying in appliance stores, with the steady home-ing automobile field also benefiting in this respect.

A jewelry store was almost rueful over the volume of business generated by the bridal and graduation seasons. Not ing that "June was even busier for us than December," the comment was added: "When we were through at night, we didn't walk home—we crawled."

Across the State. Because it is largely a community of salaried workers—rather than wage earners—Princeton's economy is not directly affected by the swirling tides of industry and the boom or bust years that agriculture occasionally experiences in the Garden State. It is, however, pleasantly reassuring to know that both industry and agriculture are currently faring extremely well.

Recent rains have aided drought-affected areas in most parts of the state. The current issue of the Farm Labor Report reveals that prices for most crops are satisfactorily high and that in many areas, more seasonal workers are needed than are presently available.

Unemployment in New Jersey has just touched a 12-year low. The State's Department of Labor and Industry reports. It is less than half the prevailing rate in the spring of 1958 and, the Department reports, "the economic indicators show no signs of reversal of the downward trend."

RESIDENTS OBJECT
To Re-naming Streets
What's in a name? Ask the Township Committee which introduced ordinances on Monday changing Oakland Street to Hickory Court and Hillside Road to Loomis Court. "It's just like you go home and find a new wife!" Committee was told.
"Why, when Hillside Road has been in existence for 51 years?" demanded Ernest D'Andrea of 28 Hillside Road. The nine Hillside Road property owners sent a petition denouncing the proposed change.
Frank Buccafuso of 32 Oakland Street said Hickory Court should be changed to Oakland Street, claiming his street was named in 1912.
Henry J. Frank, chairman of the traffic committee which proposed the changes, commented that these are block-long, dead-end streets. Hickory Court and Oakland Street meet at Walnut Lane, as do Loomis Court and Hillside Road two blocks away. This is confusing to new police and firemen, and to new members of the community. We have to look at it in a broader view."

Citing the thoroughfare known as Wiggins Street-Hamilton Avenue-Littlebrook Road, Committeeman Walter B. Foster moved that Hillside Road be changed to Loomis Court. The motion passed 3-2. Committeemen Russell Mount, William L. Wilson and Foster in favor; Mayor Carl C. Schafer Jr. and John O. Green opposed. A public hearing on the ordinance was set for August 2.

Introduction of the Oakland Street-Hickory Court ordinance was tabled, pending comments from Hickory Court residents.

Open Space. Since no objection was raised, the Township Committee passed the ordinance calling for acquisition of the 85-acre Harport property on Route 206 for open space and recreation. The state "Green Acres" project will foot half of the $165,000 cost; $49,300 will be paid from Federal open space funds and $16,900 each by Borough and Township.

In other action:
● Committee accepted parts of Bertrand Drive and Caldwell Drive as Township roads;
● Accepted dedication of a new alignment of Stetson Way, off Princeton Pike;
● Introduced an ordinance for construction of a $39,000 sewer along Cherry Hill Road south from Balconet Drive. A public hearing was set for August 2.

Adlai Stevenson, United States ambassador to the United Nations, died Wednesday in London of a heart attack. While tributes to his knowledge of international diplomacy in a troubled world poured in from friends and foe alike, a classmate of his at Princeton revealed that he had planned to make this town his home upon retirement.

Edmond S. DeLong '22, who retired last month as the University's Director of Public Information, said that Mr. Stevenson had wanted to come here to live—presumably in the relatively near future. He was 65 at the time of his death. He had given his personal papers to Firestone Library and Mr. DeLong said, "I like the idea of working in the library where we should have ready access to them." Publication of these papers which deal with Mr. Stevenson's career as leader of the Democratic party and as an official of the United States government is planned by the University. Despite the pressing schedule he followed, the UK ambassador was an occasional visitor and speaker here. In 1963 he received the Woodrow Wilson Award from Princeton—its highest tribute to an alumnus, given to the man who best exemplifies the Wilsonian concept of "Princeton in the nation's service."

On learning of Mr. Stevenson's death last week, President Robert Goheen issued the following statement:

"Adlai Stevenson, a graduate of Princeton and one of our university's most notable alumni in public affairs, walked humbly, yet proudly, in the tradition of Woodrow Wilson. He saw that the world must seek peace in order to be free."

"He saw that to gain peace we must make use of high intelligence as well as sustained faith in the goodness of man. His university, our nation, and the world are the poorer for his sudden passing."

PROCEEDINGS COMPLETED
For Goodwin-LaPlaca Land.

A four year legal battle has ended with the acquisition of the Goodwin-LaPlaca property on North Harrison Street by the Housing Authority for its project for elderly persons. The plans should be available for bids, by the life fall, and the 30-apartment complex ready for occupancy in about 15 months.

Final award of compensation amounting to $115,000 was ordered by the Superior Court, the price agreed upon by Thomas P. Cook attorney for the Housing Authority, and Bagel, Souler and Stonaker, attorneys for George Goodwin and Charles LaPlaca. The authority took title to the property in April by filing a Declaration of Taking with the court, and paying $65,000 into court at that time, which represents the assessed value of the property at 100% of true value.

With the transaction completed, the Authority will submit final plans to the Public Housing Authority for approval, as soon as they have been completed by Charles K. Agle, architect for the project. It also hopes to have a model constructed for public viewing at a later date. The project is being designed for elderly residents of Princeton of modest means, many of whom have already placed applications on file with the Housing Authority.

Nodded his head!

Cooler it has been—even to readings in the 50s during the pre-dawn hours. And none in the 90s for most of July.

Temperatures will average a few degrees below normal for the next few days. And in contrast to the last two weekends this one should be made for outdoor action.

TOWNSHIP BOARD MEETS

And Drops Hot Potato. The Township Board of Education evaded the hottest issue of the school merger debate at Thursday's meeting. It resolved that plans for the distribution of Borough pupils under reorganization should be left to the regional school board for decision.

The Township board was acting upon a report from the Joint Committee to the Borough and Township Board of Education. ("The Laschewer Committee"), presented by board member Mrs. Marion Epstein.

According to a memorandum from Dr. Frederick Laschewer, committee chairman and member of the Borough board, all plans submitted and studied by his committee will be given to the regional board for its consideration. A file of suggested plans is being assembled and will be available to the public at the two school board offices.

The Laschewer memorandum, also sent to Borough board members, laid four principles which the committee felt should be followed in the regional board's plan to re-distribute Borough students.

1. The schools should be organized to realize the greatest educational benefits from merger.
2. Pupils should be allocated to achieve the best possible integration of the schools.
3. Class size should be kept small.
4. Students should be placed in the most convenient school consistent with the above criteria.

The committee report.

PRINCE AND GARDEN
Harlow (now through Tuesday) is big and expensive — Joseph E. Levine doesn't know how to do things any other way — and sometimes interesting. It's better than the first movie on the life of the former Hollywood star photographed in electrovision, but not by much.

Carroll Baker, built up as the present sex goddess of film, gives a fairly convincing performance of Jean Harlow. Peter Lawford is fairly unconvincing in the role as her impotent husband, but Red Buttons and Raf Valone give competent performances.

Included in the picture are some quite interesting and informative scenes about the mysteries of studio operation in Hollywood. Showman Levine has spared nothing in making the film, except quality.

"A VIEW FROM THE BRIDGE" The Arthur Miller play will be performed by the Mercury Players of Somerset at 8:30 on Friday and Saturday at the Open Air Theatre in Washington Crossing Park, N. J. In the climactic scene above, Sam Parillo as Eddie Carbone pulls a knife on his wife's cousin Marco, played by Joseph Pepe. John Harayda is director.

THE PLAYHOUSE

What's New Pussycat? (now through Tuesday) has taken two favorite subjects of the motion picture industry, sex and psychoanalysis, and ridiculed both without mercy. The result is ludicrous to some and lugubrious to others.

The plot, if it can be called that, concerns a male editor (Peter O'Toole) of a fashion magazine who would like to settle down with his fiancée (Romy Schneider), but can't because he is constantly attracted to a variety of women. (Paula Prentiss, Capucine et al.) This necessitates a trip to psychiatrist Peter Sellers, who is even more neurotic than his patients.

From then on the film spreads out to include a variety of amusing sequences and sight gags, ending with everybody taking part in an incredible chase through a country chateau and an auto chase outdoors. The film, one of the wackiest in years, has run the gamut of reviewers' emotions from hilarious to horrible, but it is worth risking.

August 9 through 21. "Quality Street," a new full-scale musical opens on August 23, starring Nancy Dussault and comedienne Anna Russell. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. except Sunday; matinees are at 2 p.m. on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

"DESERT SONG" PLAYING At Music Circus. "The Desert Song," opened on Tuesday at the Lambertville Music Circus for a one-week engagement. The musical was introduced to Broadway 39 years ago.

The music was composed by Sigmund Romberg; Otto Harbach, Oscar Hammerstein 2nd and Frank Mandel wrote the book and lyrics.

"TOM JONES" IS NEXT
At Bucks County. The stage adaptation of Henry Fielding's lusty novel, "Tom Jones," opens at Bucks County Playhouse on Monday, starring Warren Berlinger. "The Typist" and "The Tiger" continue at the Playhouse through this weekend.

Berlinger, star of "Come Blow Your Horn" on Broadway, has spent the last 17 years in films, TV and the stage. He received unanimous critical acclaim for his leading role in the London production of "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

The large cast of whacky and wonderful 18th Century characters include Margaret Hamilton as Miss Weston, Chris Gampel and Annette Hunt as Fitzpatrick and his wife Harriet, Ralph Bunker, Chevi Colton, Pat Hale and others.

Pearl Bailey will undertake her first role in a non-musical show when she stars in "The Solid Gold Cadillac" from

IT'S NEW To Us

FOOD FROM "HELEN"

At New Bakery, Del. Cool special Italian pastries, those summer salads, freshly made rum cakes, you know, and the counter—coleslaw for you, lights?

Perhaps? Macaroni salad? Potato salad? Or baked beans, if you want something hearty? And how about the home-made lasagne or the veal Parmigian? All of these will be featured at the new "Helen's Bakery and Deli" scheduled to open this weekend in Blauvelt, next to Towne Wine and Liquor.

All the salads and the baked beans will, as we said above, be made by Helen herself, because she doesn't think that wholesale cole slaw comes up to slaw that's been chopped right there in a big wooden bowl.

The Italian dishes will be made to order; after all, you can't have lasagne and veal Parmigian in the same steam-table style and expect full flavor and quality. And will they be real Italian dishes? Helen is Mrs. Marcuso. Need you ask more?

Also on hand will be freshly baked bread (not by Helen this time!) including Helen can almost sniff the la-hard rolls, Jewish ryes (and it's a Jewish bakery, so you know the ryes are just right), Mr. Mancuso adds and, for dessert, layer cakes, doughnuts and cookies.

Some of the cookies will be Italian style, and that brings us to weekends and "Helen's". Special Italian pastries, those summer salads, freshly made rum cakes, you know, and the counter—coleslaw for you, lights?

Stop by for a week-end treat: the bakery and deli will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. all day Sunday, and from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. the other six days. If you want to order that lasagne, or perhaps a pastrami sandwich—to go, the number is 466-1719.

On the "del" side, Helen's will have Italian and American cold cuts, including pastrami, plus groceries and sundries. Magazines and newspapers will be in the big picture window that views the road.

It's a clean, cool, crisply modern store with warm paneling, a feeling of spaciousness in spite of all the goodies stacked here and there, and above all, the pleasant air of home-ownership and good cooking by a woman who loves to cook and does it well. The Marcusos live in Zion, only five minutes away; Helen can almost sniff the la-

Bifocal Music

See the devastatingly handsome young man with the dark glasses? You think he is meditating. Actually, he is gawk-watching and listening to WABC at the same time. How?

Through his glasses, of course. Taking advantage of the current fashion for thick black rims, somebody has inserted a little transmitter radio in these thick earpieces. Slip the glasses on. The on-off switch is behind your left ear, the station selector behind your right ear. The transparent ear-plug slips right inside your ear invisible.

The heft is light—you'll never know you're even wearing a radio. And if some bore comes along and you don't want to listen to him, just reach behind your left ear and turn up the volume.

signe she has in her own oven at home.

And by the way—there is an adjoining door to Towne Wine and Liquor, in case you're thirsty.

SMALL LIVING ROOM?

Buy four-inch TV. This is the one a fat man rests on his stomach while he's lying on his back in bed. Remember the TV? It's Sony's four-inch TV with circuitry so small it looks like spider webbery, and a price tag that is in inverse proportion to the size of the circuitry. Cutest thing you ever saw, and a sharp picture, if we can judge by the soap-opera we watched me let afternoon at the University Store.

The U Store also has Sony's nine-inch screen, which looks much smaller because they measure screen diagonally, or some such, and has a price-tag that needs less oxygen than the four inch to survive: $169.95. We watched a ball game on this one and you could almost see the circuitry in the umpire himself.

The nine-inch Sony has a combination battery-plug arrangement, and it recharges itself while you have it plugged in. You can take it to the store, watch ball-games at—Continued on Page 6

ITS A SELLERS MARKET: Peter Sellers is back again in a new comedy, this time as a neurotic paviatien seen here interviewing Peter O'Toole in a scene from "What's New Pussycat?" now at the Playhouse.

The Mini Stereo-phone comes in several combinations: AM alone ($49.95), AM-FM and phonograph, $79.95 or phonograph alone ($39.95). There are also little ear pieces in case you don't want to annoy the people under the next beach umbrella.

The Koff - Bagger concert will include renaissance, baroque and classical composers. The program will also demonstrate the evolution of the violin. The instrument as it is known today is rather strikingly different from the fiddle of Monteverdi's, Bach's or even Mozart's day. Robert Koff will play several of these historical violins in rarely-heard compositions by Copernicus and Mendelssohn as well as Bach and Mozart.

Mr. Koff, one of the founding members of the Juilliard Quartet, is currently a professor of music at Brandeis University. He has produced a series of educational musical programs for both child and adult audiences. His accompanist, Louis Bagger, is a well-known harpsichordist.

Saturday's concert by the Marx Ensemble reflects the current revival of music of the baroque era. The program includes compositions of the comparatively unknown Guillaume de Machaut, Heinrich Finck and Martin Holsteyns, as well as by Jean Baptiste Lully and Jean Fache. A single, nominal plunge into the 20th Century will be "Four Canons" by Schoenberg. Reservations may be made by calling 215-847-5303.

Rain, Some Damage Left by Weekend Storms In Area

Rain deluged most of Mercer County during the weekend, ranging in quantity from better than an inch to more than two and a half. Some areas were soaked on Friday, while others remained dry, but on Sunday the downpour was general and in Pennington, the thunder and lightning were accompanied by hail.

Many branches and three trees were blown down in Princeton, one which hit the ground at the corner of Brookstone and Fairway Drives taking telephone lines down with it. However, Manager Elmer Dietz of the Bell Telephone Co. said that only 46 phones were temporarily out of service throughout the Princeton community.

At 2:10 Sunday afternoon, a large tree snapped at sidewalk level on Avalon Place, near John Street. It was leaning against a large cable which provides much of the power used by homes in the western section of town, but a Public Service crew cut it away before the cable broke.

Traffic was blocked on Lafayette Road by a large limb, while at the corner of John and Jackson Streets, another hit the ground and broke into thousands of pieces. The sidewalk in front of St. Paul's Church was blocked by a fallen branch.

At the home of Mrs. Jay Murray, 59 Murray Place, an electric cable, leading to the oil burner in the basement was short-circuited. Aglow and beginning to burn nearby timbers, it could not be doused with water and remained red hot even after the power switch in the house had been pulled by Sgt. James Koplaner of the Princeton Police. Firemen of Mercer Engine Co. No. 3 stood by on an emergency until a Public Service crew, occupied elsewhere because of the storm, was located on Fiedler Road and escorted by police cruiser to Murray Place. The power was then cut outside the house.

Topics Of The Town

Pit. Anthony Ranfone conducted the original investigation. It was further investigated by Detective Robert B. McVenus.

The Beauty Nest. A woman's hairdresser shop, and the Carousel Luncheonette, both located at 209 Nassau Street, called Borough police last week to report an attempt had been made to enter their front doors. Police reported that all the screws of the door handle of each had been removed in an apparent effort to pry them loose. No entry was made in either case, police added.

Wallet Taken from Car. On Saturday, Miss Kathy Hofer, Route 1, Princeton, told police that someone had removed her wallet from her purse which she had left in her parked car. It had contained between $16 and $17, she said.

Miss Hofer told police she had parked her car on Nassau Street Friday evening across from the Garden Theatre. She left her handbag containing her wallet on the floor of her car which she thought she had locked. She discovered her loss after returning from the theatre.

MEDICINE

"LEFTOVERS"

There's but one good place in the home for "leftovers." That's the refrigerator — and the "leftovers" should be foods, not medicines.

Medicine chest "leftovers" are risky at best and often downright dangerous. The medicine your physician prescribed a year or so ago was intended to be used then, not now. Avoid serious danger — dump old medicine.

Each illness requires scientific diagnosis — and, usually, specialized medicine is indicated.

See your physician. Let him decide what's best. Call on us, The Thorne Pharmacy, to provide your medication.

One Way on Stockton

Northbound traffic on Stockton Street (coming into Princeton) will be diverted for three days this week to permit the State Highway Department to resurface Stockton between Lovers Lane and Bayard Lane. A Department official said the shutdown would begin either Thursday or Friday morning.

Northbound traffic will be rerouted over Lovers Lane to Mercer. Southbound traffic will not be affected.

Each day after 3 in the afternoon, Stockton will be opened for traffic in both directions. There will be no work done during the weekend.

dale Road. Police said the pole, pushed into the middle of the road, was demolished. In addition, wires were down near the car's right door. "It's lucky she didn't get a jolt from the current," police said. The entire front end of Mrs. Powell's new car was damaged. She received abrasions of the forehead. The mishap occurred at 12:45 p.m.

BOARD DISMISSES CASE

Against Lawrence Nursery, The Lawrence Township Zoning Board has dismissed a case against Charles Peterson, owner of Peterson's Nursery, located on Route 508 near Providence Line Road. The board threw out the case, refusing to hear testimony on two violations brought by township zoning officer Mark A. Carmel after Mr. Peterson's attorney, Ivan C. Bash, charged that the hearing was illegal and that the zoning board had no authority to hear the suit.

Mr. Bash claimed that municipal court was the place for such charges. If the township felt his client was in violation of the zoning ordinance, The North Lawrence Citizens Association, represented by Theodore T. Tama, has charged that Mr. Peterson is operating a commercial nursery in a rural-residential neighborhood.

The hearing was scheduled when Mr. Carmel notified Mr. Peterson that his occupancy permit for his new greenhouse might be revoked because of his violations. He charged that the nursery owner was violating a zoning ordinance by selling produce not grown on his own property.

He also claimed that construction of the greenhouse constituted an illegal expansion of a non-conforming use, since produce from the greenhouse were being sold at Mr. Peterson's plant and produce stand.

Thanks to AFS Hosts.

To the Editor of Town Topics: I would like to express my warmest thanks to the families of the Princeton community who were hosts to 82 foreign American Field Service students last week. Princeton was a stop-over for these students on their three-week bus tour which culminates the year they have spent on seniors in high schools across the country. At this moment, there are almost 2000 foreign AFS students from 59 countries converging on Washington, their last stop before returning to their own countries.

They will know from experience that the stereotyped American is hard to find. For a year they have lived as sons and daughters of American families, and in their last few weeks have been able to get a brief glimpse of other homes and other communities. Many of them are going to be the teachers and leaders of the future in their own countries, and more important, the parents of the next generation. Once again, on behalf of the Princeton Committee of the American Field Service, I thank all these families who so warmly welcomed these young ambassadors.

POETRY WINDOW GIVEN
To University Chapel. The grand cycle of religious art at the Princeton University Chapel will soon be completed through the gift of a stained glass window donated by Hugh L. Adams of the Class of 1965 in memory of his parents. The Poetry Window will occupy the third space from the main entrance in the top tier of windows on the south side of the chapel. It is being designed and executed by Irene and Rowan McMele of New York. As described by Mr. LeCompte, the window will show King David as an archetypal poet. Below will appear Martin Luther, a prolific poet as well as Reformation leader, and 17th Century English divine and poet George Herbert. Depicted in the five lancets are Vergil, Dante, Chaucer, Shakespeare, John Donne, Milton, William Blake, Emily Dickinson and T.S. Eliot. Dean Ernest Gordon said that the window's iconography was decided by a committee that included Dr. Rensselaer W. Lee, Marquand Professor of Art and Archaeology, Art Museum Director Patrick J. Kelleher and himself. The donor is a descendant of the painter John Trumbull and the Art Museum's advisory committee. The Poetry Window will be dedicated at a special service using words of the poets. Dean Gordon said, probably early in the coming academic year.

PILOT PROGRAM GETS OFF GROUND: Literally, at the Princeton Airport Saturday where all 27 members of the first Summer Program of the Princeton Study Center went on airplane rides. Of average and above average intelligence, the 27 students were selected by teachers in ones who would benefit from some program of inspiration and enrichment. The six-week program is led by a completely volunteer staff which donates five days of its time each week. They are, standing from left: Mrs. Dele Cassano, Mrs. Sylvia Massell, Mrs. Rebecca Mackey, Thomas Carroll, program director, and Alao Vomacka. Kneeling, left, is John Ratner and, two over, Judith Epstein. In the plane at the time of the picture was Carol Aylen. The last four are volunteer high school graduates, who, says Mr. Carroll, "have been highly recommended" to participate in this program. The airport provided the rides at below cost. (Staff Photo)

"I'VE SEEN THE RESULTS. IT WORKS!" Before coming to this area, Miss Ruth Riday worked for an orthodontist on Long Island where she reports she has seen the results of fluoridation. "It works," she says with finality, and there is no doubt in her mind about the benefits of starting fluoridation here. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: Do you think a public referendum should have been held before starting fluoridation here next month?

Where Asked: Palmer Square

Miss Ruth Riday, Neuhann, bookkeeper for Nini Plymouth: I definitely think they should have held it. I don't think it should be left up to the people. I don't think people realize how beneficial fluoridation is. I've worked for an orthodontist and I've seen the results. If we wait until children are exposed to fluoridated water, there is no question that it helps prevent cavities as they grow up.

Mrs. Lucille Raymond, Quaker Road, executive secretary: Yes, I do, definitely, because I for one don't feel fluoridation is needed. I definitely would like to see this issue brought before a referendum. That's the trouble. People don't stick together and fight for what they believe. As a result, public officials take over and have the run of the mill.

Miss Claire Liberty, Trenton, secretary: Of course I do! Anything as controversial as fluoridation should be discussed and if necessary run into the ground before instituting it or not instituting it. We went through the same thing in Trenton. There are so many things for fluoridation and so many against. It's difficult to find out the truth. That's the sad thing.

Leighton Collins, Carter Road, publisher of Aviation Magazine: No, that's a question for technical people to deal with and your medical associations. What do the people know about it, Mr. G? I don't know a thing about it. I just read in Dear South County, Texas, no one has any cavities—there aren't any dentists—and it is because of something in the water, the same as the fluorides they want to add here, and that sort of convinces me.

Miss Catherine Alexander, Snowden Lane, employee at Ladlow's: Yes, because it is a way of administering what might be called medication through the water supply and I think that kind of thing ought to be left up to individual choice. I would like to see this decided by public referendum if at all possible.

Mrs. Trude Parzen, Shady Brook Lane, housewife: No, I see no reason to have one. Just because the old water company did not want to act without the support of a referendum I don't think the new owner has to adhere to that. I'm in favor of fluoridation. There are so many other ways of being poisoned that I'll take my chances!

Joseph Magree, Hopewell, butcher for Nassau Inn: They say it's good for preventing cavities but aside from that I don't know. I do know adding fluoride to water gives it a slightly bitter taste. I've been places where they have had fluoridated water. Because of this and because it is so highly controversial, I think they should give the people a chance to decide for themselves.

Miss Louise Mirkin, 172 Nassau Street, test developer for ETS: I would say so, because I think the public which will be affected by this should have a chance to express its opinion first. I know there is considerable controversy over whether fluoridation is a good or bad thing. And I just think some people are going to resent having something forced on them when they may not want it.

Mrs. Irene Thomas, 14 Nassau Street, cashier-checker for Princeton Inn Co., definitely I feel the people should be given a chance to have their say. We let so many things go by now it's frightening. We have that awful, awful expression. You can't fight city hall. Why not? It can be done. As far as fluoridation goes, I have a definite question about it. I have a very bad skin rash.

AUTHOR MEETS GOVERNOR: Alvin Schwartz (right), 50 Southern Way, presents a copy of his book, "How to Fly a Kite, Catch a Fish, Grow a Flower and Other Activities For You and Your Child," to Governor Richard J. Hughes. Father of four, Mr. Schwartz reports that his book "was written largely in self-defense" to serve as a parent's do-it-yourself guide to recreation, athletics and nature. Gov. Hughes appears to be a natural as a prospective reader: he has ten children.

 from sodium fluoride and anything connected with fluoride scares, I may not react this way but...the whole thing is a little anyway. I'm sure there isn't anyone who has died because there was no fluoride in his water. As far as poor teeth, go, the trouble today is that everything is mashed. People don't chew anymore.

Paul Stager, Graduate College, psychology: I'm inclined to feel if there is a council or committee of medical authorities and if it is their opinion that fluoridation is beneficial then I think, in this case, as in many other government decrees, we should accept the committee's decision. I'm inclined to joining with an informed committee if it has been appointed on a basis of experience and professional training. When something is in doubt, then I think it should be sent before the public for a decision but where there is convincing medical evidence, as there is here, then I'm inclined to go along with that.

Mrs. Yvelia Howe, San Francisco, buyer: I don't think so because the American Medical Association feels fluoridation is a good idea. Where it's been tested, it's been proven to prevent cavities from starting in children. I'd prefer to take the testimony of medical experts to that of the public. What does the average person know about it?

Mrs. Anna Downs, Meadow Road, West Windsor, housewife: You mean it's never been put to a referendum? Then I would say no, because everyone is going to use and drink this water and I think they should have some say as to the type of water they will use and drink.

Bruno Cresti, New Brunswick, service manager, Nassau Inn: No, because I think who ever made the decision to go ahead must have given it every consideration and must have had the public interest uppermost in their minds. If fluoridation is considered to be beneficial and helps prevent cavities, then I see no reason why it shouldn't be started.

Person To Person

Cary S. Kammeler

We read that drawings of dogs have been found in caves of earliest antiquity, and evidence tells us he was a companion and helpmate to prehistoric man for thousands of years. Apparently the earliest man began to breed dogs first to aid in the hunt for food, and to help guard his cave. There are some 25,000,000 dogs in the U.S., with about one in five of pedigree stock. In the top ten breeds there are beagles, Cocker Spaniels, boxers, dachshunds, collies, Chihuahuas, German Shepherds, Boston terriers, pointers, and English setters. Field trials for sporting dogs is now described as one of the fastest growing recreational activities in the U.S. Speaking of dogs, it is unfortunate that an abused trade-in is something called a "dog," but let us tell you, when we get one, we junk it or whittle it... we will never sell one to you! ROCKY HILL STILL LEADS Cenerino's in Second Place. Rocky Hill raised its unbeaten streak to eight, and remained two games ahead of its nearest rival, Cenerino's, in action last week in the slow-pitch adult softball league.

Rocky Hill had little trouble winning both games last week, the first over Cenerino's, 12 to 5, and the second by forfeit when the Shopping Center failed to field enough men. The league leaders pounded out 17 hits against Cenerino's, with Bill Wibur hitting a three-bagger. Gil Zaher and Jeff Jefferson had homers for Cenerino's and Fred Wilson went four for four.

Harrison Athletic Club won pair of games, defeating the First National Bank, 11 to 5, and the Post Office, 14 to 7. Frank Nini had a perfect day with four for four and John Hoff had a triple for the losers.

Harrison A.C. slammed 17 hits against the Post Office, with Kerry Klink, three for five, Bob Smyth, two for four, Tom Reynolds, three for five, and Corvino blasting a two-run home run. Don Hanley contributed a triple, and two unassisted double plays in the field. Bill Clark, Charlie Stryker and Jim Brown all had at least two hits apiece for the Post Office.

Nassau Conover split its games, losing to the Shopping Center, 7 to 6, but bouncing back to win the next night, 6 to 5, over Nini Plymouth, and Dick Miller had three hits in three trips for the losers.

Cenerino's won its second game, an 11 to 10 victory over the Bank. Floyd Phox picked up four of the winners 10 hits. Bill Rodefeld had two doubles and Bill Richardson went three for five to account for seven of the Bank's 16 hits.

The other game saw the Post Office win its third of the season, knocking off Nini Plymouth, 10 to 6. Stryker and Bill Traeger both went three for four and Cliff Manuel had a homer for the Post Office. Barry Davall collected three hits to four at bats for Nini.

In games played Thursday, July 8, postponed from July 5, Rocky Hill defeated the Bank, 12 to 1; Harrison A.C. beat Nassau Conover, 10 to 9; Shopping Center nipped Nini Plymouth, 15 to 14; and Cenerino's outlasted the Post Office, 14 to 12.

RCA TIES FOR FIRST
By Defeating Accelerator, RCA 1 rose to the occasion, knocked off front-running Accelerator, and thus moved up to a first place tie with the hosts in the Western Division of the Business Softball League. Engineering Research stretched its lead to three games in the Eastern Division but was scheduled to replay part of an earlier contest against Educational Testing, as a league committee upheld the latter's protest.

Behind by two runs going into the top of the last inning, RCA 1 scored four, and then held off a last ditch rally by Accelerator to win 10 to 9. Winning pitcher Wally Reschert had for three, including a homer and four RBIs, and Jim Clark, John Meier and Steve Comer all had two hits apiece. For Accelerator Barry Hibs went three for four, Rick Nelson two for three, John Ruesch two for four, and Carl Schuler, two for four, with the last three all hitting four batters.

Sowing eight runs on each hit in the fourth inning, RCA had an easy time beating RCA 2, 10 to 3. Pete Williamson had three for four and a home run, and Bill Peterabend also slammed a home run. Wacke blasted a round tripper for RCA 2, and Neil Sanders had three hits in three at bats.

way, while his team scored four more runs. Bert Blackwell hit a double to drive in the winning runs in the last inning.

In other games, McGraw-Hill Office won handily from Columbia Carbon, 12 to 3, and Hopewell TV crushed Opinion Research's chances for its first win by just nipping the cellar dwellers, 10 to 9. In the McGraw-Hill - Carbon game, Ralph Pironne went two for three and started three double plays from his third base position, and Steve Seatonmayer had three hits including a double.

The ETS-ERC game was scheduled to be played Tuesday night after the regular contests. The game will begin with ERC at bat, leading 6 to 3, in the bottom of the sixth with one out and a man on first.

The committee ruled that the umpire should not have awarded the ERC runner a second base after an ETS fielder had thrown his glove at the ball, because the glove did not come in contact with the ball. The protest concerning pitching requirements was rejected, because it was not made during the game.

ELKS LOSE FIRST

In PBA League Action, A 9-7 loss by the Elks to the Lions created a first-place tie in the PBA Baseball League last week. Willie Rosso's fifth in the run and a pinch double by Joe McQuinn that scored two were the big blows.

The Lions also clipped the Eagles, 19 to 4, as Rosso and Jeff Bannan hit homers. Hook and Ladder was another double winner, defeating Post 76, 15 to 3, and the Sportsmen, 6 to 2. Jackie Petron's two-hitter marked the latter contest.

Engine Co. No. 3 drew even with the Elks in first place by shipping the Sportsmen, 9-2, behind Kim Foster. Bobby Sweeney paced the attack with two hits. The Elks salvaged one game by topping Engine

Player Breaks Record

A card of 35-33—68 gave U.S. Open champion Gary Player the course record Sunday at the Mountain View Golf Club — the latest of 50 such achievements he has recorded during his career.

The first man to break 70 on the county course in West Trenton, Doug Sanders, bled out for a 59 seconds before Player tapped in a two-foot putt for a birdie two on the 18th. The popular South African produced five birdies, 11 pars and two bogeys on the way to his record.

Player teamed with Freeholder Dick Coffee, who shot a highly-creditable 71 as they defeated Sanders and Jim Byer, the district amateur champion, 2 and 1. Upwards of 2,000 watched the match, with proceeds benefiting the Mercer County Heart Fund.

Co. No. 1, 5-2, as Jeff Mordacai singled and tripped.

The standings:

	W. L. Pct.
Elks	7 1 .875
Co. No. 3	6 2 .750
Lions	2 5 .275
Hook & Ladder	3 5 .375
Co. No. 1	2 6 .250
Post 76	2 6 .250
Sportsmen	2 6 .250

TWO 1-HITTERS RECORDED

By Bowers' Pitchers, Bowers increased its first-place lead in the YMCA Junior Baseball League last week on the strength of two fine one-hit pitching performances by Jim Pironne and Tom Butterford. The twin killing raised Bowers' record to 5-0-1.

Pironne walked five but was never in danger as his teammates scored five of their eight runs in the first inning. Timely hitting plus walks and enemy errors accounted for the outburst. The 8-0 shutout victim was Matthews. Butterford topped Nassau 0-1, 6-2. He was helped along by the batting of teammate Barz Lasso who went three-for-three, including a bases-included double in the third when Bowers scored all but one of its runs.

Water Company stayed in contention with a pair of victories of its own — a 5-4 shutout of Nassau 0-1 and a 3-0 shutout of Matthews. Nicky Arana was the winning pitcher and also the batting star in the first contest. He rapped out a pair of doubles and a triple.

Two more one-hit performances popped up in the second game as both John Barclay of Water Company and Matthews' Billy Brooks yielded one hit. The difference: Barclay struck out nine and received support, while Brooks allowed inopportune walks and received shabby support allied. The result was three unearned runs and Water Company's fourth victory in six starts.

BLUE, NAVY NOTCH WINS

In Summer Lacrosse, in the Princeton Summer Lacrosse League last week, the Blue team defeated the Reds, 5-2, and the Navy edged the Green team, 6-5. After the first two weeks of play, each team has won and lost one.

Offensive star for the Blues was Bruce Chase who tallied three of his team's five goals. Phil Parniet and Jim Jaeger added single goals. Hun's Dave Lettice was credited with two assists. For the Reds, John Steiger of PHS accounted for both goals.

Pete Smith of Hobart College was the big gun in the Navy attack. He scored three times, while Harry Bivins of Bucknell scored twice and Paul Soldavin of Hun, once. Bill Alexander had two assists. Phil Allen of Princeton University made Smith's output of three goals to pace the Green team and tie for scoring honors. Sam Stewart of North Carolina collected the Green's other two goals.

Two games are played every Wednesday evening starting at 6:30 at the Community Park Field. Spectators are welcome.

Some people spend their lives testing tea. They know tea. Other people spend their lives buying, selling, examining and studying furniture. They know furniture. They can't help it. Furniture is their life. They eat, breathe, sleep and talk furniture. That is why every piece of furniture on MANNING'S famous floors has passed this test: Is it in good taste? Is the workmanship up to the MANNING standard? Are the materials top notch? Is it a good value? This incessant editing of the whole furniture market is your protection. The MANNING staff is made of sound, seasoned furniture men who take a personal interest in your problems. They are invisible when you don't want them . . . and right at your elbow when you do want them. The way to buy furniture . . . even in a big MID-SUMMER SALE . . . is never to be pressured into a quick purchase. The only way to buy furniture is to browse leisurely on the floors of a store which offers exquisite taste of moderate prices. Because, as we say, "You'll find it costs no more from a fine store." And MANNING's knows that good taste in fine furniture is never the extreme. Neither an antiquated concoction of frills and curves . . . nor a bleak space-age set of triangles and squares. MANNING'S believes that a house should put its arms around you. That is why we like to break the spartan sternness of contemporary design with the lovely softening graciousness of traditional. Seldom will you find the flouziest, glossiest furniture lines reduced. But in MANNING'S great Mid-Summer Sale, you will find all of these famous makes offered at rare savings. Take HERITAGE or WHITE or HARDEN; take PENNSYLVANIA HOUSE or HENREDON . . . and you have furniture that's hard to beat . . . and harder to find on sale.
